LOCAL LIVE STOCK Leading Features of Markets at the

East Liberty Yards. HEAVY RUN OF LOW GRADE CATTLE

Depress Prices --- Prime Beef Steady at Last Week's Rates.

SHEEP AND LAMBS DOWN, HOGS DULL

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1889.

There were very few bright features to the live stock market at Liberty this week. Trade was slow all along the line, and sales could only be effected at concessions on last week's prices. Even with liberal concessions on the part of holders, a number of cattle and sheep were unsold at last accounts. Cattle.

The run was about 90 loads, an excess of 10 loads over last week.

In the supplies were a large proportion of stockers, and what a leading stockman terms light slippers butcher cattle," just off grass. For this class of cattle customers were few, and 300 head remained unsold at noon to-day, though holders were ready to concede 30 to Sc on last week's prices. In the supplies were ten loads of good to prime cattle, most of which were bought by a representative of a Baltimore firm for export purposes. The price paid was $1.55 to $4.50. Frime cattle held their own, on account of scarcity. All other grades are lower. Calres, dry cows and buils are very slow, Said a member of one the leading live stock firms, "the market for dry cows and buils this week has been the worst this year, especially for ordinary grades. There is no show for low grade thin stock of any kind here. The farmers of Ohio and Indiana who take their cattle off grass before they are well fatted and ship to this market make a very large mistake and one that is expensive. They had much better keep their thin cattle on grass a month or two longer, and take the chances of a better market than send them in their unfatted state to present mean markets.

"These lean grassers come into connection though holders were ready to concede 30 to 35c pers, producers and consumers on the thin, half fatted butener cattle coming to our markets, and if the Ohio and Indiana farmer must take this grade from grass they should sell them nearer home as they are not wanted here. When grass is so abundan as it now is and markets are so mean, except for the best

The supply was above that of last week and demand below. Prices are 20 to 25c below the range of last week, and markets were slow at the decline. At last accounts there were a number of loads held over from yesterday number of loads held over from yesterday which failed to find customers even at liberal concessions from last week's prices. The delays in Eastern shipments have had a depressing influence on our markets. Buyers for Eastern markets a week or two past have been reluctant to take hold because of the trouble getting stock promptly through to destination. Hogs.

The difficulty of transportation eastward has also seriously affected hog markets the past two Baltimore have on this account found it better to go elsewhere. As the blockade is broken an improvement is generally expected at an early day. weeks. Regular buyers from Philadelphia and

An Extra Session of the Himois Legislature May be Called to Take Action of the Condition of the Cook County Insane Asylum—The Worst on the Continent.

Chicago, June 19.—The investigation into the condition of the Cook County Insane Asylum came to an end to-day. Judge Prendergast reviewed the evidence at great length, pointing out the dreadful results arising from the combined influences of polities, overcrowding, brutality and filth. "For 30 years," said the Judge, "this asylum has stood very low in the estimation of those familiar with the science of insanity and the treatment of the insane. It finally achieved the bad pre-eminence of being annue at the late international congress of musee at the late international congress of muse at the late at $15.00 must at the demand and prices the mus nchieved the bad pre-eminence of being namea at the late international congress of physicians at Washington as being the worst asylum on the continent."

Pointing out the effects of political man-agement of such an institution, the Judge said: "It is plain that very many, if not all, of the evils existing in this asylum com from the fact that the officials and attendants are appointed by a political body, the membership of which is constantly shifting and changing. To a great extent officials, attendants and workmen have been and are appointed on political grounds. The constant care of these persons is to rethe constant care of these persons is to re-tain their places, and they cultivate the friendship of the powers that be instead of studying to increase their efficiency and skill upon the attendance of the insane. All the evidence demonstrates beyond a doubt that there can be no permanent remedy while the insane asylum is under the control of the County Board. The present County Board has done better than its predecessors, but the system is vicious."

It is because there is no hope of remedy

in the city or county, the Judge says, that that he recommends a special session of the Sinte Legislature to pass a law putting all such institutions under control of the State.

MARKETS BY WIRE.

Wheat Pit-Corn Higher and Oats Fenturcless-Hog Products Quiet and Lower.

CHICAGO-There was less doing in wheat to day, and trading was more of a local character, with fluctuations confined within a smaller range. The feeling was a little unsettled. The opening for July was 1/8% lower, and prices further receded %c, then rallied %c, eased off again and closed 1481% lower than yesterday. August and December closed 1/2 lower than yesterday. The early weakness was due to clear weather here, the sun shining brightly, and there was a fair quantity of wheat on sale, but good buying at the decline resulted in a re-covery of the decline, only to weaken off lower

Reported rains in the Red River Valley yesterday had a weakening influence. In the Southwest advices report too much rain, and harvesting is interfered with in consequence. The weather is still one of the principal factors affecting the market. Laverpool advices reported a quiet feeling and noted higher prices, while London quoted nothing doing and Paris was lower. The quantity on ocean passage was reported as showing a decrease of 400,000 bushels. A light export business was reported at the seaboard. A fair degree of activity was manifested in corn during the early part of the session, and the feeling developed was quite firm, higher prices being established. As the session ad-vanced the market became quiet, most of the usiness being transacted early. The better tone was attributed largely to falling off in the receipts. Unfavorable reports regarding the growing crop from the southern portion of the State, stating too much rain had fallen and considerable quantities were under ground, also had a strengthening influence. GROWLERS SET BACK.

Interest in and Demand for Realty Steadily Increasing.

A GOOD POINTER FOR INVESTORS.

Difficulties in the Way of Securing Homes More Imaginary Than Real.

In passing to and fro on Fourth avenue yesterday I noticed that many of the principal real estate offices were well filled with customers, This was especially the case at Beringer & Son's, S. W. Black & Co.'s, Herron & Sons', Black & Baird's and some others. One of the firm of Black & Baird

"There is a buoyant feeling in the real estate market. The majority of our customers are buyers and they want everything from a business block to a cheap lot. Business is fully 75 per cent better than at the same time last year, and I think it will keep up all summer. This shows that the value of land as an investment is becoming pretty

The item which appeared in this department of THE DISPATCH yesterday, stating that the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company had just paid a monthly dividend of 3 per cent, making 17 per cent distributed to stockholders thus far this year, was correct so far as the figures were concerned, but erroneous, it appears, in this respect, that the amount so paid was not enely out of the earnings of the present year but included a portion of those of 1888, which were not paid until January 1 last.

This statement is made by a gentleman con-nected with the company in the interest of a portion of the stockholders who do not desire my deception in the matter that would lead to a fictitious boom and cause unsuspecting parties to invest in the stock under a misappreman stated, is about this: The stockholders at their meeting on the 18th inst. voted to increase the indebtedness $750,000, for which a mortgage on the property of the company will be issued in a few days. This mortgage is in addition to an older one of $200,000, both making $850,000. From this statement it is apparent that future dividends, if any at all, will be small and far between until the above indebtedness

It is a mistake to think that all the cheap property has been bought up. There is plenty of it left at very low figures. A Wilkinsburg agent is offering lots as low as $150. At Maple wood Park they are selling as low as $400. On the Southside, at West End Place and on Mt. Washington values are about the same as at

All of these districts are well adapted to residence purposes and are rapidly filling up. They offer an opportunity for people of moderate means to acquire homes that should not be neglected. Whether built on or not lots at the figures above given are a good investment.

This leads me to remark that the difficulties in the way of getting homes are now more imaginary than real. People want too much. A young married couple must have a big house, with all the modern conveniences-elevator, electric bells, hot and cold water, and many other expensive luxuries. It requires a large ncome to maintain a family in this style, and

and eventually bankruptcy,

stone fronts and expansive lawns, and turn up their noses at less pretentious environments, forget that their fathers or their grandfathers were content with a log cabin of two rooms and a ladder by which they ascended to the "loft," -not attic, as it is now called—where the dried apples, pumpkins, walnuts, herbs, and other articles were stored for winter use. Many of the rich men of Pittsburg commenced life in this way. The clods have scarcely settled on the grave of one of the foremost men in this community—a man whose success in business will be pointed to in coming years for the encouragement of others.

'Traveling o'er life's weary main." He commenced his married life at the bottom—lived in a house of two rooms, kept no servants, and was diligent in business. He was not mercenary, for his charities were large, but he saved wherever he could. He labored for something more substantial than mere dis-play, and succeeded. He often told me of his early struggies, and of his difficulties in over-coming them. The foundation of the millions left to his family was laid amid bumble surwere given precedence over the ornamental and fictitious. So long as true manhood is admired the name of Wilham Semple will be admired the name of William Semple will be held in honorable remembrance.

It is better to begin at the bottom and go up than to begin at the top and come down. The ascent of a rocket is a beautiful display, but its descent is of the most prosaic kind. It is a false potion of young people that they must false notion of young people that they must begin where the old folks left off. Few men are too poor to buy a cheap lot and have a two or three roomed house put up on it on the easy payment plan. By so doing they would save rent and be enabled to lay up something for a rainy day.

The tractions were practically higher, as were most of the gassers. The rest of the list was about steady and neglected. There was quite a demand for bank stocks with the usual result. Bids, offers and sales were:

The Menotony of the Oil Market Becoming

Rather Tiresome.

The oil market yesterday was "no good," in even a larger sense than has been its characteristic for several weeks. There was no news of importance, and the trading, what little there was, was entirely professional. Several brokers predicted a stump early in July, after the producers' reserve shall have been disposed of.

The market opened tame at 83%c, advanced to 83%c, where it hung for some time, fell back and closed at the opening figure—showing a fluctuation of only %c, for the day. The feeling at the finish was more like that of a man who is lost in the woods. The wisest broker has no fixed opinion of the course of the market, It is as likely to go down as up—and a little more so. Tuesday's clearings were $10,000 barrels.

BULLISH TALK

Worked for Its Full Value in Wall Street-A Few Strong Features, but Nearly Everything Closes at a Fractional Loss.

New York, June 19.—The stock market to-day was more active, but became weak, espe-cially in the afternoon, and prices to-night are, with but few exceptions, materially lower than those of last evening. There was a good deal no disposition to buy stocks, and commission people reported a marked absence of buying orders, and this encouraged attacks upon the list, in which the Grangers, under the influence of further discouraging rumors in regard to the roads in the Inter-State Association, suffered most severely.

The Coal stocks were especially strong all the forenoon, but they also yielded later in the day and finally material declines were established in all of them. The Oregon shares were the only group maintaining their firm tone, and they even scored further final advances. In the only group maintaining their firm tone, and they even scored further final advances. In addition there was no lack of advices of damage to the growing crops, and there was a fresh statement from President Miller in regard to the charges of the Alton against the St. Paul, while new rumors of the issue were of a blanket mortgage on the St. Paul. New England and Atchison were prominent all day long in the dealings, but gave evidence of manipulation, which, however, failed to hold them up toward the close.

Opening prices were extremely irregular this morning, and the same irregularity was noticed in the early trading, and while the Oregon stocks and New England made material advances, Lackawanna and others sympathized to a limited extent in the improvement. Duliness became the most prominent feature, however, except for a few of the leading shares, and the movements were small and and St. Paul led off in the decline, but the remainder soon joined in, and before delivery hour material losses had been scored all over the list.

At 2 P. M. there was some little reaction, but the downward course of prices was resumed in the last hour, and after another slight rally the market closed fairly active and weak at about the lowest prices of the day. There were about 26,000 shares traded in the unlisted department. Oregon Navigation scored a rise of 11% per cent. and Toledo, Ann Arbor and Nort Michigan 1,

Oregon Navigation scored a rise of 11/2 per cent, and Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan 1, and Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan I, but Southern Pacific is down 34, Burlington 1%, Delaware and Hudson and St. Paul 1½, each, Rock Island 2, Union Pacific 1½, and New England 1 per cent.

Railroad bonds were quiet to-day and did not sympathize with the weakness in stocks, though there were some marked losses established in the list. The general tone of the dealings was strong, however, and most issues are higher to-night. There was, however, very little special feature to the dealings. The sales of all issues reached $1,492,000. If which Atlantic and Pacific 4s contributed $199,000 and Reading second incomes $131,000. Eric thirds rose 2, to 113; Ohio and Mississippi 5a, 3%, to 1654; Fort Wayne seconds, 2%, to 147%, and Wheeling and Lake Eric firsts, 3, to 1654. Hocking Valley 6s lost 2, at 56.

Lake Eris ursts, 3, to 100%. Hocking valley of lost 2, at 56.

—At the inquest at Armagh into the cause of the fatal railroad accident near there last week, representatives of the Irish Northern Railroad Company, on whose road the disaster occurred, announced that the company would accept all liability for the accident, and was prepared to consider all claims for damages on account of loss of life or injuries that might be presented.

—"I have no time to talk politics," said Governer Foraker, of Ohio, in New York yesterday. "I am about to start for home and have barely time to catch my train. I am not a candidate for renomination. I have no desire for the honor again, and believe it is tume to give somebody else a chance. I am aware of the movement to push the nomination upon me, but you can say for me that I do not want it and will not take it."

-The lucky North German Lloyd steamship Saale is probably not the only craft that shoved an iron prow into an iceberg on June II. A crystalline fleet of these lowering ship destroyers seems to have been drifting northeasterly on that day along the current of the guif stream, right in the path of adventurous navigators who risk the higher latitudes to shorten their voyage hither from European ports. Other vessels report meeting with the icy fleet, and it is feared some accidents may have occurred.

—Great consternation has been created among the farmers of Marion county, Indiana, by the appearance during the last day or two of a small, green bug or parasite that threatens to demolish the wheat, oats and rye crop. The pests appear upon ever head by hundreds and planting themsolves at the base of the grain sap the life out of it. It is bolieved that the backward portion of the crop will be utterly destroyed and the portions that are advanced will be badly injured. Reports from adjacent counties indicate that the presence of the parasite is widespread.

—A young woman named Hannah Heitland has been working for her brother in Quincy, Ill. She recently left his house and walked to her home in Tioga, a distance of 25 or 35 miles. She showed symptoms of insanity, and her parents, with other ignorant Germans of that vicinity, held a sort of incantation over the girl, sticking plus into her person to "drive away the evil spirit." The young woman became almost unconscious, and in this condition she was bound hand and foot, gagged and placed in a farm wagon, brought to Cathage and placed in a livery stable. Here she remained from noon yesterday until near midnight last night in an unconscious condition. The unfortunate creature was finally taken to jail, where a physician is trying to save her life. Pins were still found sticking in her person. A judicial investigation will be held.

The advance is looked upon by jobbers here as a speculative one. Three big buyers in New York, it is said, are buying up all the cheese they can get their hands on in Liverpool. The effect on legitimate trade is already felt. The consumer will in the end have to pay the damages.
